CLAIM AGAINST THE DEFENDANT RENEE CHARBONNEAU

40. Defendant Charbonneau, also known as Belt Drive Betty was, at all material times, the owner and publisher of a newsletter, Busted Knuckles Chronicles.
41. Defendant Charbonneau, during 2012 and 2013 published defamatory and Libelous Statements on the World Wide Web and in the Busted Knuckles Chronicles, which publications contained inter alia the following statements:
  - (a) I am going to keep the people who run Sturgis North on the minds of riders until everyone I can possibly reach is acquainted with who they are dealing with"
  - (b) "My goal in keeping him, his family and his business out there is to prevent others from being hurt by them and that can only be accomplished by understanding what kind of people they are."
  - (c) "Education is my ulterior motive"
  - (d) "It won't matter where the event goes unless the people running it – who owe somewhere in the neighbourhood of $600,000.00 to area businesses are removed: This event will never amount to anything but a cash grab: I have done too much investigating of Ray and Joan – the organizers to ever trust him, support him, or ever attend anything they run ever again. They are the biggest part of the whole problem and if Salmon Arm is good, why did the stomp just announce they were moving to Sicamous. Could it be that Sturgis North ruined things there for them not to mention the miles of dead behind"
  - (e) "As earlier, I have my personal reasons for not supporting this event in any way as long as any members of the original show who are management/ownership have anything to do with it."
